GOV. DURBIN'S MESSAGE

Went Into Detail and Was Full of Interest and Information.

It Was Well Received and the Attention of the Legislators Was Engrossed to the Last

Indianapolis, Jan. 6.—The legislature was in session about two hours and a half today, during which Governor Durbin was the central figure. Two years ago he established the precedent of a governor reading his own message. He liked the effect and tried it again today with much success. The message was long, containing over 21,000 words, but the governor showed himself a good reader. The matter was so interesting that but few of the members grew nervous or tired. Nearly everyone remained to the last. The governor not only went into detail regarding his own administration, but showed a surprising touch with the state's affairs. He also made a number of recommendations that surprised his hearers. He took up the question of reform in the divorce laws and gave a number of valuable suggestions. His remedy to check purchase and sale of votes also caused a mild sensation. His recommendations regarding the liquor laws, however, probably caused the greatest commotion, or will cause a commotion among the liquor men and temperance reformers, for he showed what the liquor dealers regard as a most radical side. The senate and house adjourned immediately after the reading of the message and will not meet again till Monday morning. Monday, however, will not be a day of legislation, as it will be given over to the inauguration of Mr. Hanly as governor and Hugh T. Miller as lieutenant governor. Mr. Miller's inauguration comes first in the senate chamber, after which Mr. Hanly will be inaugurated in the state-house rotunda. The "plunder committees" of the house and senate are disposing of the patronage as rapidly as possible, so it is likely that when the legislature is convened Monday morning it will be ready for business with a complete set of employees.

NEW ROUTE IS QUITE A SAVING

Work is still going on along the Big Four's immense relocation undertaking between Greensburg and Lawrenceburg Junction. The new line, which was opened several weeks ago, is proving to be a very economical route and far less expensive in time and cost than the many miles of old roadway which were abandoned. The finishing touches are now being put on. It is expected the Big Four will have a double track from Cincinnati to Greensburg within a short time. The Big Four is understood to have a project for improving its entrance into the city at a heavy expense. The ultimate cost of all improvements between Cincinnati and Greensburg will be in excess of $3,000,000.

SCHOOLS CLOSED BY SMALLPOX

On account of the prevalence of smallpox in the country, northwest of Middletown, and in the vicinity of Mechanicsburg and because there have been many exposures, it has been deemed wise to dismiss the schools for the present week. The services at the churches were also dismissed for the time being, and by adopting such a procedure the county health board hopes to stamp out every trace of the disease in the county. As far as is known no new cases have been reported lately, and it is believed that by exercising the proper care, the disease can be stamped out.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Of the Supreme Court Regarding the Saloons and Law Violation.

The Indiana Supreme court handed down a decision, a few days ago, of more than ordinary importance to liquor dealers as well as to those who oppose the liquor traffic. Under the law, as it has been for years, after two convictions of a licensed saloon keeper the Circuit Judge, or, in certain cities, the Mayor, may revoke the license. After three convictions the authority named shall do so, there being no discretion left in the matter.

In the recent decision the proprietor of a saloon must answer in person for illegal acts of his agent or bartender. As heretofore most of the liquor law convictions were found against bartenders and thus did not affect the record of proprietors this decision it will be seen will enforce more caution on the part of the latter, as their license to do business would be jeopard if the law.

FIRST LECTURE

Rev. T. H. McConnell to Talk on His Trip to the Holy Land.

Rev. T. H. McConnell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who spent some time in the Holy Land last spring and who has been preparing a series of lectures on his travels, will deliver his first lecture at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The subject of Rev. McConnell's lecture will be "Round About Jerusalem," and it will be illustrated by stereopticon with views actually taken on the spot by Rev. McConnell's party. There are to be eight lectures in all and each will be illustrated, giving a complete picture of the scenes in Palestine. The lectures will be entirely free to everyone but a free-will offering will be taken up in order to defray the expenses of the lecture.

WILL TAKE THE OATH OF OFFICE

Governor Hanly and Lieutenant-Governor Miller to be Sworn in Next Monday.

A number of people from this city are arranging to attend the inauguration ceremonies in the State house in Indianapolis, next Monday, when J. Frank Hanly, of Lafayette, will be sworn in as governor of Indiana and Hugh T. Miller, of Columbus will take the oath of office as lieutenant governor. The inauguration will take place at noon Monday and at night between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock a reception will be held in the State house by Governor and Mrs. Hanly. A number of people here received invitations today and will attend. Among those who received invitations were Congressman Watson, Joseph Cowing and Nate Weeks, delegates to the State convention, which nominated Mr. Hanly, and Jacob Fendner.

IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

The so-called Appleyard steam and electric road syndicate has passed into the hands of a receiver and confesses an indebtedness of $3,500,000. Much was heard of this syndicate when Mr. Wilson was working up interest in the C., G. R. line; but it is understood that whatever interest the company had in the Indiana project was withdrawn when Mr. Wilson retired.

SPEEDY VERDICT

It Did Not Take Jury Long to Find James Gillespie Guilty.

Man Who Murdered Twin Sister in Cold Blood Has Narrow Escape From Gallows

Rising Sun, Ind., Jan. 6.—James Gillespie, who with his sister, Mrs. Belle Seward and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Barbour, was indicted for the murder of his twin sister, Elizabeth Gillespie, was found guilty last night and sentenced to life imprisonment. The other defendants will be tried separately, as in the case of James. The trial lasted over five weeks and was bitterly fought throughout.

Miss Elizabeth Gillespie was shot and killed while in the parlor of her home preparing to entertain the women's literary club, a year ago last month.

This was the second trial of James Gillespie. At the former trial, a year ago, the four defendants were tried together, but the jury failed to agree and was dismissed. Since then Mrs. Seward and Mr. and Mrs. Barbour were admitted to bail, but in the case of James Gillespie bail was refused. When the case again came before the court about five weeks ago James demanded a separate trial, which was granted. This trial was bitterly fought throughout. The jury was given the case at 4:30 p. m. yesterday, and three hours later announced that they had reached a verdict. The courtroom was filled with people before Judge Cornet and the attorneys arrived. Mr. and Mrs. Barbour were the first of the defendants to arrive, closely followed by Dr. William Gillespie, a brother of James, and others. The jury filed slowly into the room and took their seats while James Gillespie was being brought from the jail by Sheriff Rump. After James arrived and order was established, Judge Cornet asked if the jurors had agreed upon a verdict. When they declared that the verdict was guilty and the penalty life imprisonment, the crowd broke from the courtroom and cheers for the jury were given outside. As the verdict was read James Gillespie attempted to smile, but it ended in a failure. Gillespie's attorneys today filed a motion for a new trial.

The jurors took but one ballot in finding for conviction, but three were necessary to fix the penalty, as three of the jurors held out for the death penalty. Miss Elizabeth was shot on the night of Dec. 8, 1903, while in the parlor of her home preparing to entertain the Woman's Literary Club of Rising Sun. The assassin fired through a front window with a double-barreled shotgun, inflicting wounds on the head of the woman which resulted in her death several hours later. The only person in the house at the time was the aged mother of the victim. Several witnesses testified that James and Elizabeth had many quarrels previous to the murder and that James left home to board with another sister after one of these quarrels. Experts claimed that the wounds were inflicted with a 16-gauge shotgun, and the prosecution brought forward witnesses who testified that James Gillespie was the owner of the only 16-gauge shotgun in Rising Sun.

THE NEW SUBURB

Connersville Examiner.

On a switch near the Fries brick works, west of the city, are twelve old cabooses or cars, that are the abiding places of sixty or more people. These are the men brought here to work on the C., H. & D. line. During the past few days of severe weather they stay rather closely about "home," and seem to be getting their share of fun out of life without being boisterous or offensive.

A gentleman, who has business with these men, when asked as to their nationality, said they were Irish, Italians, Scandinavian, Polocks, Dagoes and Obions. Mr. Fries stated by telephone that he had no complaint to make of his new neighbors and was glad to have the population increase so rapidly in his neighborhood.

MURPHY—POHLMAN

Well Known Greensburg Couple Married at Bellevue, Kentucky.

Dwight Murphy, a well known and prominent bank clerk of Greensburg, and Miss Anna Pohlman, one of that city's popular society ladies, were married Wednesday evening at Bellevue, Ky., at the home of Monte L. Green, a relative of the bride. The ceremony took place about 6:30 in the evening and was performed by the groom's father, Rev. Alonzo Murphy. The wedding was a general surprise.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Murphy are well known in this city, having visited here and attended many social functions here. Their many friends here will no doubt be surprised to learn of the wedding and will no doubt join in extending congratulations.

A NEW MANAGER

Howard Mullin Succeeds Homer Cole as Manager of the Opera House.

Homer W. Cole yesterday evening disposed of his interest in the city opera house to Howard Mullin, who took charge at once. Mr. Cole has been compelled to give up the management for various reasons, among which is his father's continued ill health, and a desire to embark in a business of entirely different nature. Mr. Mullin has booked "Thelma" as the next attraction and will continue the management in the same manner as it has been by Mr. Cole, namely to give Rushville the best attractions obtainable. The seats for each attraction will continue to be on sale at Hargrove & Mullin's drug store.

AGAIN IN DEBT

County Treasurers Report Shows an Excess of Expenditures Over Revenues.

The County Treasurer's report for 1904, published yesterday, shows that Rush county is again in debt. The county revenues for the year were $73,562.82, and the disbursements were $76,037.13, leaving the county no balance on Jan. 1st, 1905, and in the hole to the extent of $2474.31.

The shortage is caused by the recent low tax levy and the county therefore is unable to raise enough money to defray expenses.

The occurrence is hardly anything out of the ordinary and will happen whenever a county has lowered its tax rate in such a proportion to its disbursements. It was on account of this lack of funds that the county commissioners were unable to allow the usual claims.

WILL SPEAK AT CONNERSVILLE

At the Farmers Institute to be held at Connersville, on Monday and Tuesday of next week, T. A. Coleman, of this county, will deliver addresses on the following subjects, "Varieties of Live Stock, Why?" "The Silo in Farm Economy;" "The Balance Relation."

Those who have heard Mr. Coleman, speak in high terms of his ability as a speaker and of the great amount of both practical and theoretical knowledge that he possesses on the subjects named above. We feel sure that the farmers of Fayette county have made a wise selection in choosing so able and cultured a gentleman and practical farmer to be one of their principal speakers at their Institute.

BROKE INTO CASH DRAWER

Stranger Steals Forty Dollars From the Windsor Hotel Bar.

Young Man Fled and Was Captured at Noblesville—Spent Nineteen Dollars.

The cash register in the bar at the Windsor hotel was broken into Wednesday night and emptied of its contents, $40 in cash.

Some time ago a young man from a neighboring city and who comes from a good family, came to this city and applied to mine host Miller for a position at the hotel. Mr. Miller was suspicious of the lad and told him that he had no place for him.

The young man, who is 19 years old, hung about the hotel and on Thursday morning was missing when the bar was opened, $40 was missed from the cash register and a pile of chairs and an open transem told the story. Mr. Miller kept the matter secret and tracked the young man in question to Noblesville where he was arrested by the police and was brought by Mr. Miller back to this city. The boy had spent $19 of the money but the remainder was recovered. The boy's father came to this city and made good the amount.

On Mr. Miller's return from Noblesville with the lad he discovered, as he entered the hotel with him, that the boy's father was in the office and he marched the lad into the parlor where he left him. The young man escaped through one of the windows and has not been seen since.

THERE ARE OTHERS

Of course, in a small place like Rushville, the new trolley car is the wonder of wonders, and it is not surprising that people bring their dinners and stand along the track to watch it go by, hour after hour. Over here, we have had trolley lines (on paper) so often and of so many kinds, that if one of Mr. Henry's monster cars should be seen scooting down Central avenue, it would hardly attract passing attention.—Connersville News

Now in that little way station along the C., H. & D., commonly called Connersville, but better known as "Slow Town," the big interurban power house and car barns which they tried so hard to get and failed, and which graces OUR city, perhaps wouldn't amount to much either, but why did they make such a hard fight to get it?

Of course Connersville has had trolley lines and lots of them (on paper) as the News says, and probably that is all that they will ever get, but should a trolley line ever succeed in getting around the hills of Fayette county and locating "Slow Town," my! how the people will stare at the RUSHVILLE SUNDAY LEAGUE Base Ball team as it goes through on its way to Hamilton, Middletown, Dayton, Cincinnati or Covington to play ball. We sometimes wonder why it was that Connersville failed to get into the league.

Then again, we have two burglars in jail over here that the Connersville police have been trying to capture for a year or more. Yes, it takes Rushville to capture burglars.

UNDER THE BAN

Class flags are under the ban in the New Castle high school and will not be tolerated either in the building or anywhere else about the school buildings and will not be tolerated in decorations, according to the ultimatum given the high school class by Mrs. C. N. Mikels, the principal. There has been several fierce class fights recently in the school and the authorities at New Castle have decided to enforce their ruling to the limit.

Rush County's Birds.

By W. O. Headlee.

XXII.

THE CARDINAL GROSBREAK.

The Cardinal is altogether the most popular of our birds. With a voice as clear and beautiful as his plumage is rich and attractive, and with manners as graceful as they are dignified, we can easily see why this is so. No bird is more conspicuously colored. He seems dyed, as it were, with the deepest red of the dawn, which he loves to greet with his liveliest song. John Burroughs says, "This bird suggests a British red-coat." The expression is an apt and suggestive one; for to be sure, he has a true soldier-like bearing.

All who read these lines are of course familiar with the Cardinal, or Redbird, as we much prefer to call him. He is quite common in all parts of the county, and while he prefers briery thickets, he may be found in almost every sort of habitat from the deepest, most solitary thicket to the noisy busy thoroughfares of the city.

One thing that has added much to his popularity, no doubt, is the fact that he is with us the year round. He is none of your "Summer soldier and sunshine patriot." Like a true friend he is on hand in fair and foul weather, and it is in the winter when birds are rare that we have learned most to appreciate him. He does not sing to speak of then, but his very presence adds a warmth to the season and takes much of the coldness out of our hearts.

Warmed and stimulated by the first sign of spring, he regains his power of song and thereafter the woods are never wanting in good music. He has a great variety of song, which he runs through with marked liberality. Just when you have about decided that you know his song, a half-strange sound comes from the thicket which causes you to doubt; for does not this sound come from the same quarters where the Cardinal was just pouring forth so lustily his familiar, "Whoy-it, whoy-it, whoy-it, tehew, tehew, tehew, tehew?" Closer attention convinces you that this song is from the same bird and then you know the whole truth. Longer and better acquaintance reveals to us a similarity running through all their strains, which we cannot mistake.

There is not the sweetness in the song of the Cardinal that is present in those of some other birds, but this lack of sweetness is offset with clearness, variety, and strength. His voice, in keeping with his manners, possesses a sort of dignity which we must admire. This musical ability, together with a fine dress has made the Cardinal much sought after for pets, and—sad to relate—many thousands have been slaughtered to grace (?) the hats of unthinking women who put fashion and show above conscience and common sense.

The nest is made of twigs, leaves and grass and placed in bushes or briars two to six feet up. It is not a finished nest—in fact it is not what we might expect from so fine a bird.

Often two broods, and sometimes three are reared in a summer.

As their large, short, conical bills would indicate, their chief food is seeds and grains, but they also eat insects, at least enough to establish their usefulness in this particular, and justify their protection.

The Alhambra is in danger of collapse. Its guardian, the architect Contreras, estimates that $300,000 will be needed to preserve it, but it is doubtful if the Spanish government can afford to give that sum.

What a snap Hyman Schatz would have among all that junk at Port Arthur.

The Russian army near Mukden has a fresh chance to show its skill in retreat. Its present position has no longer any special value in the matter of strategy.

Because Southern people think the play of Uncle Tom's Cabin misrepresents them, some prominent men of the South are urging the governor of Iowa to recommend a law prohibiting the production of that play.

Notwithstanding the meteoric flashing of Mrs. Chadwick across the northern Ohio sky, the losses caused by defaults were less by one-third in the year just past than they were in 1903.

John L. Griffiths, of Indianapolis, who was to have the consulship of Berlin, has been erroneously reported last week, has been tendered "something just as good." As soon as Mr. Griffiths accepts, the place—some European consulship—will be made known.

Will the powers again deprive Japan of Port Arthur? That country is already endeavoring to ascertain the tenor of any exchange of views which may have taken place between the powers regarding possible intervention, fearing that they may again have in contemplation a solution of the Far Eastern problem, which would again deprive her of the fruits of her victories.

The latest rumor in newspaper circles is that W. J. Bryan, editor of the Commoner will soon assume editorial control of the Indianapolis Sentinel at the same time merging the Commoner with the Sentinel. The recent attacks made upon Taggart by prominent Eastern Democratic papers it would seem have made such a movement advisable with the Western Democrats. If this project is consummated, it will doubtless make Indianapolis the headquarters of the silver wing of the party and the Sentinel its official organ. If the project is brought about it will give the Sentinel such a boom as it has never had before and assure it a long lease of life. It had been intimidated before the late general election, that after the campaign the Sentinel would go out of business as it has been reported for some time that it was not a paying enterprise.

MATTER OF GRATIFICATION

Lieut.-Gov. elect Miller Watching the Workings of His Pet Law.

Indianapolis, Jan. 6.—Hugh T. Miller, lieutenant governor-elect, is very much interested in the workings of a road supervisor's law he caused to be enacted at the last session of the legislature when he was a member of the house. He took the position that the road supervisors should be elected by the road districts they supervise, that the towns and cities should not have a voice in their election, and that the office should be removed as far as possible from politics. In order to do that his bill provided that the supervisors should be elected on the second Saturday following the first Monday of January of this year; that the township trustees should post public notices of the hour and place of the elections and that the elections in all districts should be held at the same time. The bill provided that the voters should meet at a given point as in mass convention and then select the supervisor in a way that the road district affected would settle the matter at issue and politics cut as little figure as possible. Mr. Miller is anxious to see how the law will work. He is gratified because the codification commission has embodied the law in its report.

The matter of the appointment of the Hon. John L. Griffiths of this city to a position in the consular service seems to have taken on some peculiar phases. For instance it was first sent out in a semi-authoritative way from Washington that he was to succeed the Hon. John K. Gowdy as consul general to Paris. Next it was given out authoritatively that he was design-

nated for consul general to Berlin, but just as he was beginning to receive letters of congratulation from his friends, lo and behold! word was sent out from Washington again that the report about his being designated for the Berlin position was without authority of the White House. Now comes the report that the president has authorized Congressman Overstreet of this city to inform Mr. Griffiths that he will be given a position in the consular service in Europe and promoted at the end of the next four years, but that it is impossible to assign him to either Berlin or Paris. While it is generally conceded by the party leaders that Mr. Griffiths is entitled to a good appointment, it would not be surprising under the circumstances if he should refuse to accept anything.

An interesting sidelight on the session up to date is the number of members who say they have no bills to introduce. If they should carry out the resolve they announce there would be less legislation than usual, but it would be unsafe to predict that there would not be as many bills as is the ordinary run. The chances are that on the first roll-call there will be such a grist of bills that the clerks will have their hands full handling them. Of course there will not be so very much doing next week, but thereafter business will be good unless there should be something unusual to keep the members from breaking in. It is expected that the codification bill, the railway commission bill and the general appropriations bill will be the most interesting features.

Congressman James A. Hemenway of Boonville, who will be chosen Jan. 17 as Vice President-elect Fairbanks' successor in the United States senate, left here last night for Washington. He expected to remain till after the inauguration of Mr. Hanly as governor Monday, but he received a telegram from Washington this afternoon asking him to return at once if possible. During his short stay here this time he has met most of the Republican members of the legislature and become better acquainted with them. Mr. Hemenway said he would return to Indianapolis the 16th or 17th of the month.

Made the Lawyer Mad.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 6.—As the result of a clash between the federal and county authorities that has been on since Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick arrived from New York, as to who had jurisdiction over the prisoner's care while she is in the county jail, the federal authorities have assumed control and two deputy marshals alternate in the county jail in guarding the way to Mrs. Chadwick's cell. Not even her attorney, J. P. Dawley, was allowed to see her because he had not obtained permission from the federal authorities. Dawley, who is a very prominent lawyer, asserted the prerogative of his calling to see his client, but the powerful deputy marshal refused him entrance to the woman's corridor of the jail. Dawley was furious and said to the marshal that if he had half as much physical strength as he had determination, he would throw the marshal out of the window.

Niedringhaus Wins.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 6.—Thomas K. Niedringhaus of St. Louis, chairman of the Republican state central committee, was last night nominated for United States senator to succeed Senator Cockrell. His election is assured. He was named on the fifth ballot, Richard Kerens being his nearest competitor.

Went Aground in the Harbor.

New York, Jan. 6.—The Hamburg-American line steamship Prinz Adalbert, from Genoa, Palermo and Naples with passengers and a general cargo, is aground in New York lower bay. The vessel struck in the wash channel near Romer beacon as she was coming up the lower harbor from sea.

Had to Hire Larger Hall.

Indianapolis, Jan. 6.—So many members attended the meeting of the Indiana Swine Breeders' association at the statehouse that about a hundred could not get in the room, and a larger hall was obtained. This is about the strongest livestock association in Indiana, and has held its strength for many years.

Body Found in River.

Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 6.—The body of Nell S. Phelps, the millionaire manufacturer of breakfast foods, of this city, who mysteriously disappeared several weeks ago, and who was supposed to have gone to British Columbia, was found, badly decomposed, in the river here.

Oratorical Siege Guns in Position.

Denver, Jan. 6.—Today the Colorado legislature commenced to do things. All the political preliminaries to the canvassing of the vote for state officers have been swept away. When the legislature convened this morning the decks were cleared, the battleflags run up and in both house and senate ninety-nine gunners were standing by an equal number of oratorical siege guns prepared for action.

Despondent Over Ill-Health.

Bellefontaine, Ohio, Jan. 6.—Despondent because of poor health, Miss Lydia Haupt committed suicide at her home last evening by swallowing an ounce of carbolic acid. During the Spanish-American war she was employed in Cuba as a government nurse, and at the cessation of hostilities had the distinction of raising the American flag over Moro castle at Havana.

WITH THE FISHES

Flagship of the Baltic Squadron Strikes a Rock and Founders.

THE SUBMARINE FLEET

Of Russia's Luckless Navy Has a Most Important Acquisition in Mid-Ocean.

With No Japanese in Sight Great Battleship Makes a Dive For the Bottom.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's flagship, the battleship Kniaz Souvaroff, has struck a rock and foundered.

The latest report from Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron was contained in a dispatch dated Tamatave, Island of Madagascar, Jan. 2, in which it was stated that the vice admiral's division of the Russian second Pacific squadron, consisting of five battleships, three cruisers, two transports and a hospital ship, had anchored on that day in the roadstead of Sainte Marie, an island on the east coast.

The Kniaz Souvaroff was built at St. Petersburg in 1902 and was of 13,516 tons displacement. Her length was 367½ feet, her beam 76 feet, her draft 28 feet and her indicated horsepower 16,000. Her armament was of the Russian Krupp pattern and consisted of four 12-inch, twenty 3-inch, twenty 3-pounder and six 1-pounder guns. She had six torpedo tubes. Her complement of men was 740.

London Hasn't Heard It.

London, Jan. 6.—There is no confirmation here of the report from St. Petersburg of a disaster to the Russian battleship Kniaz Souvaroff. According to a dispatch from Mahe, one of the Seychelle islands (about 1,000 miles east of Zanzibar), on Jan. 5 both divisions of the Russian Baltic squadron were proceeding in the direction of Diego Suarez. Merchantmen who passed Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's division report that the squadron keeps good station and appears to maneuver well.

AN ENORMOUS TASK

Every Facility for Caring for Wounded Is Overtaxed.

Chefoo, Jan. 6.—Sympathy for the sick and wounded Russians at Port Arthur is widespread, but an idea to care for them at Chefoo, Tientsin, Shanghai, Wei-Hai-Wei and Tsintau has led to an inquiry which developed the fact that the combined facilities of the places named are equal to harboring only a very small percentage of them.

Some time ago Russian residents at Chefoo collected a fund in anticipation of this emergency, but at a meeting of the British and Japanese consuls and the local health officer, the fact was developed that the present conditions at Chefoo are equal to caring for only sixty. The conditions at Shanghai and Tientsin are proportionately inadequate.

The general opinion here is that the great mass of the sick and wounded will be compelled to remain at Port Arthur until they are sufficiently convalescent to return to Russia. The refusal of the Japanese to accept the aid tendered by the British cruiser Andromeda was an error born of their desire to show the world that Japanese humanitarianism was equal to the occasion.

The statement of the censored dispatches from correspondents with General Nogi's army that the Japanese lost only 50,000 men in taking the fortress is declared to be absurd by Russian naval officers here. Their lowest estimate, they say, based on both personal observation and on stories told by prisoners is that the Japanese lost 80,000.

Advices from Japanese sources say that the condition of Port Arthur is chaotic, but that General Nogi and General Stoessel are rapidly systematizing affairs there.

General Nogi is prepared through agents who have been recruiting for months, to put a horde of Chinese coolies at work in the fortifying of Port Arthur immediately after the Russians are disposed of. Vast quantities of cement and timber are ready on the Yalu river for this purpose, while steel plates and other manufactured necessities are ready in Japan for transportation to the fortress.

The Japanese are confident that the re-fortification of Port Arthur will place the fortress in a better condition than ever, with the Russian defects eliminated, long before Russia can besiege it, if such a thing ever occurs at all. Ammunition, food and medical supplies to last for years will be sent to Port Arthur, Japan being heedful of the mistakes made by the Russians.

Port Arthur Not Much Hurt.

London, Jan. 6.—Special dispatches from Tokio say that the Port Arthur garrison was marshalled at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at Yahutsui in accordance with the terms of the supplementary agreement. A Port Arthur correspondent reports that the town appears to have been little damaged by the bombardment. Carriages and rickshaws, he says, are moving about with well-dressed people who apparently are anything but starved. The ruined forts resemble hills shaken by a mighty convulsion, and in many cases every trace of the works has disappeared.

Nogi and Stoessel Shake on It. Headquarters Third Japanese Army, Jan. 5, via Fusan, Jan. 6.—A meeting between General Stoessel and General Nogi took place yesterday at Shushi village. The two generals met in a room of the cottage and after an exchange of greetings, held a long conference. When they emerged from the cottage the generals shook hands and General Stoessel mounted his horse and returned to Port Arthur.

Stamps for War Widows. St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—The government has decided to issue a new set of stamps for foreign and domestic postage in denominations of from one to ten kopecks, bearing pictures of the Kremlin, Plevna, Peter the Great's statue in St. Petersburg, etc. The stamps will be sold for three kopecks above their face value, the surplus going to aid the widows and orphans of the war.

About Ready for Business. Paris, Jan. 6.—It is said that Vice Admiral Douabassoff and Admiral Baron von Spaun will arrive here today, thus completing the North sea commission, which will reassemble on Monday, Jan. 9.

LAID ON THE TABLE
House Shelves Southern Attack on Census Department.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The government's cotton statistics as prepared by the agriculture department and census bureau, formed the subject of an extended discussion in the house. Representative Livingston of Georgia attacked the reliability of the government's estimates and charged that the inaccuracy of the figures had created a panic in the cotton market. He called attention to the dissatisfaction which he said existed in the South over the government cotton statistics and said that the press of that section was ready to demand the abolition of the statistical bureau of the agricultural department. The question came up on a motion by Mr. Wadsworth, chairman of the committee on agriculture, to lay on the table the resolution presented by Mr. Livingston several weeks ago calling on the secretary of agriculture for information regarding the method of collecting cotton statistics. The motion to lay on the table prevailed after Messrs. Burleson (Texas), Wadsworth (N. Y.), Lovering (Mass.) and Sims (Tenn.) had vigorously defended the government's estimate. The bill to improve currency conditions was further discussed, but adjournment was taken without final action on it.

The joint statehood bill again occupied the major portion of the attention of the senate. The omnibus claims bill was read in part, but no effort was made to secure action on it. Bills for the reorganization of the medical corps of the army and regulating promotions of army officers in the ordnance department were passed.

Brutal Assault at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 6.—Miss Alice Brightwill, a protegee in the family of John T. Bate, a bank teller, was assaulted by a negro in Mr. Bate's residence at Crescent Hill, a high-class residence section of Louisville. The young woman was badly injured. The Crescent Hill district is in a state of high excitement and Captain Reilly of the Louisville police, has given orders if the negro is found, that he be brought to the county jail here instead of being taken to the police station.

Gasoline Wrecked Building.

Calumet, Mich., Jan. 6.—An explosion of tank of gasoline caused a fire in the Hubbard laundry at Greenland, killing Agnes Houle, probably fatally injuring Annie Schoen and wrecked the building.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern For Girl's Frock Designed by Martha Dean

Among the many pretty designs for the little miss none is prettier than those having a bertha. When the bertha is so arranged as to give length to the waist it is usually becoming. In the model shown here the waist is made with two broad plaits turning back from the front panel. The skirt is full, the panel effect being formed by backward turning tucks. The little dress may be cut away at the yoke and worn with or without the guimpe. The model is one that is suitable for almost any kind of material, silk, cotton or wool, and is as pretty when finished by stitching as by lace or bands.

Pattern No. 4547.
Sizes, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 years.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING

Send 10 cents to this office, give number of this pattern, No. 4547, and state size desired. It will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

Resolutions of Respect.

Hall of Beech Grove Lodge No. 388,
I. O. O. F.

Whereas, death with his keen sickle again invaded our ranks and cut down one of our most worthy brothers, be it resolved, that in the death of Louis O. Gowdy, our lodge has sustained one of her severest losses, and resolved, that in his quiet unassuming fraternal demeanor we found an example worthy of our emulation. Resolved, that we hereby express our uniform sympathy for the bereaved family, and as a mark of true fraternal affection we drape our charter for a space of thirty days and spread these resolutions on the minutes of our lodge, also we present a copy of these resolutions to his bereft widow and have them published in our county papers.

W. G. NEWHOUSE.
G. H. RUCKER.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our dear wife and mother.

Practical Receipts

FOR THE

Housewife

There are only a limited number of housekeepers who thoroughly understand how to prepare nutritious food for the sickroom. Sometimes a physician depends more upon nourishing food than on medicine to effect a final cure or to tide the patient over a critical period.

It is necessary to understand something of the chemical value of food in order to minister intelligently to the invalid. If a doctor orders raw oysters for a patient soft shell clams cannot be substituted, as has occasionally been done, with fatal results, by untrained nurses. Sometimes it is necessary to eliminate sugar and starch from the diet, and in such a case it requires considerable knowledge of food values to select the right vegetables. Sometimes albuminous are prohibited. The food suitable for a person who is recovering from one form of disease is often injurious to one in another condition. If one is at all ignorant on this subject it is better to consult the attending physician if he has not already given careful instructions.

Some of the digestive organs of a person just recovering from severe typhoid are often as delicate as tissue paper.

Solid foods would, therefore, prove fatal, and only delicate custards and broths could be taken.

In many such cases the craving for rich foods is so great that the patient must be watched lest he eat food surreptitiously.

Some excellent recipes for invalid dishes are given herewith:

BEEF TEA.

Although of great value as a stimulant, beef tea is not as nourishing as many suppose. It contains only about 8 per cent. of the real nutriment of the meat and is ordinarily made only 3 or 4 per cent. A simple way of preparing beef tea, which is similar to beef tea, but stronger, is as follows: Choose a thick, juicy steak without any fat. A cut from the middle of the round is the best. Broil it over the coals for a minute or two or long enough to heat it through thoroughly.

Put it over a warm bowl set in a basin of hot water. Cut it in many places and with the aid of a meat squeezer, squeeze out all the juice, salting it very lightly. Serve the juice hot immediately with a wafer cracker.

CHICKEN BROTH.

To make this cut up a fowl, cracking the bones. Put three pints of cold water over it and cook it, closely covered, for four hours or until the meat "cleaves from" the bones. Let the chicken cook for half an hour longer with a sprig of parsley and two tablespoonfuls of rice. Season it slightly with salt and pepper. The rice should be thoroughly cooked by this time. Serve the broth in a bowl with delicate crackers broken into it the last moment.

A CHICKEN CUSTARD.

This is a most nourishing dish. Into half a pint of chicken broth, made as described, beat the perfectly fresh yolks of three eggs. Season it with a little salt. Cook the custard, stirring it constantly until it has thickened. Be careful not to cook it long enough to let it curdle.

TEXAS FRUIT LANDS

Produce Early Crops Which Bring Fancy Prices.

In Texas they begin shipping berries in April, tomatoes in May, Peaches in June, bringing fancy prices up North.

The growing season is much longer than in the North—a chance to make two and three crops, reducing the expense of "getting through" the winter. Fruit and truck lands along the Cotton Belt Route are very cheap as yet—$10 to $15 an acre unimproved. When put to orchard or truck they can be made to yield $100 to $200 per acre and more.

Besides, it's an ideal climate—no long, cold winters. Write for booklet on fruit and truck growing.

Johnson Says

Dr. Behers

ACTIVE LIVER PILLS

We do not know of a single pill on the market that is so thoroughly satisfactory. They neither nauseate nor gripe, yet produce a natural movement of the bowels and stimulate the liver to a healthy action that makes a friend of every one that tries them.

Greensburg News: The disease of matrimony threatens to attack all eligible young men holding positions in the banks of Greensburg. Dwight Murphy succumbed to the complaint last night and another young man who is employed at the Citizens' bank is exhibiting symptoms of the same kind of an attack.

Will Spivey, the grocer, on his return from the store Wednesday night, found a tall man on the porch at the home of Mrs. Mary Flint, North Jackson street. The fellow started to run and Will gave chase firing five shots at the fellow, but none took effect. Near the residence of A. W. Williams, the fellow was joined by an accomplice and the two succeeded in getting away.

The city of Greensburg shows a mortality per thousand, yearly, of over 20; Columbus, 19.2; Rushville, 18; Shelbyville, 17.4. That is, every year, for the past five years past, there have been as shown, 4 1/2 deaths more in Greensburg, according to the population, than Columbus, 10% more than in Rushville, and 15% more than in Shelbyville.

Connorsville Examiner: The funeral of James Gray, whose remains were brought here from Nashville, Tenn., was very largely attended Wednesday afternoon at Fairview. Rev. Hawthorne, of Rushville, conducted the services. Mrs. Gray, widow of the late James Gray, whose remains were brought to this city from Nashville, Tenn., for burial, will make her home in this city during the winter with Garret Gray and family on West Hill.

The Frazee-Megee Bowling club was pleasantly entertained Thursday evening at a six o'clock dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Powell, at their home on North Morgan street. Those present were: J. D. Megee, wife and daughter Anna, J. H. Frazee, wife and daughter Florence, A. V. Spivey and wife, Charles Mauzy and wife, Dr. Kinsinger and wife, Dr. W. C. Smith and wife, Lewis Clark and wife, J. C. Blackledge and wife, Charles Frazee and wife, Fred Winslip and wife and O. E. Humes and wife.

Louis Bloom, the violinist, who will give a recital at the Main Street Christian church, January 11th, under the auspices of the first division of the Aid Society, is one of the most prominent of the younger violinists on the concert platforms today. His tone is charming and technique is excellent. His playing is notable not so much for technique, of which, though master of his instrument, he makes no display, as from his warm rich tone, feeling and breadth of style. Mr. Bloom's programs are such that please all of his audience from the enthusiastic encores he receives wherever he appears. He will be assisted by Miss Estella Eirich, piano, and Miss Mabel Walker, vocalist, a young lady possessing a beautiful and rich high soprano voice.

THE GREENSBURG CARNEGIE LIBRARY

The contractors, after two years work, are now engaged in putting the finishing touches upon the Greensburg Carnegie library building and the library board has arranged to open the library to the public on January 24th. William Lowe Bryan, president of Indiana University, will deliver the opening address and the board is now working out a program for the exercises at the opening.

SHUTS OFF SALOON

The Shelby county commissioners have refused to grant John Burton a license to sell intoxicating liquors in St. Paul, Shelby county, while only a few yards from the Shelby county line a legal saloon is in operation. This saloon is located in the part of St. Paul which lies in Decatur county, the Board of county commissioners in that county having granted a license to the dealer there several weeks ago.

A New Gas Heater.

The directors of the Enterprise Gas Co., have entered into a contract with Harry Howard, State agent for the Block Heater, for the local agency for the apparatus. This is the heater mentioned some days ago. It sets on a jet and will readily heat a small bed room or bath room.

The gas company proposes to give out the heater to patrons making a deposit and charge a nominal rate for the gas consumed in them. It is expected to be a great fuel saver and to give the consumer his money's worth. Five dozen heaters constitute the first trial order—New Castle Courier.

A free-will offering will be taken at each lecture to cover expense of stereopticon and slides and the necessary expenses of the lecture.

A new game of "graft" has been sprung by a man who travels through the country selling farmers phonographs. He apparently offers the machine and twenty records for the modest sum of $7. The average farmer signs a contract for the machine to be delivered two weeks later and before the expiration of that time he finds the local bank has purchased his note for $307 for a phonograph and twenty records at $15 each. What the farmers say then would be interesting on one of those phonograph records.

At the City Opera House.

The announcement of the dramatization of Maria Corelli's great novel, "Thelma," will be presented at the city opera house Wednesday, January 11th, will prove a pleasant surprise to the many admirers of Corelli's master piece. Critics are unanimous in their belief that "Thelma" is the only one of this popular writer's novels whose construction will admit of a dramatization sufficiently incident to prove interesting when placed before an audience in its entirety. Managers Spedden & Vancok have for this season's production of excellence, including Miss Claire Paige, a well known western actress, as "Thelma" her fourth season with the company. Seats on sale Saturday, January 7th, at Hargrove & Mullin's druggists.
